Originality – efficiency – Passion

*Originality
Efficiency
Passion
Intrepidity
Ambition*

So shall Insol'hit Projects be defined.

Founded by two music, movie and overall creation freaks, Insol'hit Projects is a recently established music & video production company, specialised in the creation of hit sounding projects, while still being original. A subtle mix of passion and reason give our productions their unique character.

Our key rule : Empowering imagination. This means re-inventing the art of hit-song writing, composing and producing, by adding it some more soul and crazyness that's essential to every creative work.. Insol'hit Projects is that witty mix of fire and ice, of people who dare to dream... but who know their market.

Specialising in mostly electronic based music (Electro/club of course, but also R&B, dance...), with a strong taste for humour, fun and originality, Insol'hit Projects is your ideal partner for any project requiring efficiency and imagination.

Founded in 2007 by Thierry Brenner (songwriter) and Philippe Meisburger (composer), Insol'hit Projects is currently working on several high potential artists and.

The founders

Thierry BRENNER

Born in October 1963, SACEM registered songwriter since 1985.

After two years at the university (studying 3 foreign languages), he got into radio moderation in 1983. For 10 years, he learned all the radio moderation tricks (from news presentation, to games, interview and entertaining shows).

He met several artists on their promotional tours, and one day, one of them asked him to write a song. Thierry took the opportunity and the 1st song he wrote ended up as this artist's upcoming single.

A few years later, his passion for songwriting definitely replaced the one he had for radio moderation, and he nowadays is a member of the SACEM (french songwriters guild), having written more than 1300 songs, 500 of them being commercially exploited all over France.

In 2007, he starts Insol'hit Projects with Philippe Meisburger, the production company that will bring his talent to the light it deserves.

Philippe MEISBURGER

Born in 1975, Philippe Meisburger A.K.A. TNK composed his first melodies and chords while in high school and gets his first broadcasting ever in front of 3000 people, in Herning, Denmark (who said success is never met at one's home ?)

He spent the rest of the 90's experimenting all kind of electronic music, and composing for video games.

Once graduated from the IT school, he leaves his ordinary life and enters one of Paris's greatest film schools. 2 years later, he's State-graduated in movie directing, editing and SFX.

He'll be hired for a few years by a swiss TV&Film producer for whom he'll work for a few years before launching what should become his main career and the biggest adventure of his life : His musical career.

Little by little, TNK becomes a name in the musical world. In 2002, his 1st self produced album (influenced by artists like Vangelis, Jean-Michel Jarre, Robert Miles or Deep Forest) becomes the key that allows him to join the SACEM (french songwriters-composers guild).

In 2007, he starts Insol'hit Projects with Thierry Brenner, the production company that will bring his talent to the light it deserves.
